

THE DOMINANT, DARING DESIGNER

It's a beautiful thing to be in the presence of creative energy and creative fortitude. It's a beautiful thing when you are aligned with those who are clearly on a spiritual and artistic path. Camille Marine-Kemp of JKFashion Closet has embarked on a journey where she is revolutionizing the way in which we see and understand fashion and design.

I first met Camille Marine Kemp during the Awards Ceremony of Atlantic City's Fashion Week Season 7 2015. That night she took home the award for Top Ready to Wear Designer of the year. It was during this fashion week she also showcased her colorful, and eclectic designs of her Get Bold Collection, which received overwhelming reviews and accolades.

When I sat down to interview Camille, it was clear she had a wonderful, warm personality and an evident passion for fashion. "As a child I lived with my grandmother for a short time and many memories consist of watching her sew. Drawing was my creative outlet which then fueled my pursuit of cosmetology, music and performance during my teenage years" says Marine-Kemp.

In 2009 Camille launched her first fashion project JKFashion Closet, which gained extensive recognition through showcasing at Atlantic City's Fashion Week, RAW Artist Visual Arts in Jersey City and recently during New York City's Fashion Week held at the Pennsylvania Hotel February 2016.

This dominant and daring designer continues to provide us with a marriage of bold colorful pieces and uniquely designed jewelry and accessories. Her brand is like no other and Camille Marine Kemp of JKFashion Closet is quickly becoming a household name within the fashion industry.
